They rode camels and saw many cactuses there. Ernie asked Bert, “Where are their leaves?” Bert told him, “The spines are their leaves. Plants in the desert don’t have big leaves because they need to save water.”

Next, they put on their masks and goggles to dive in the ocean. They saw many fish there. The shellfish moved everywhere with their hard shells to protect themselves. Ernie said, “Gee, I really want a shell like that, too.” Everybody laughed.
